ARTICLE 11 – INDEMNIFICATION

11.1. Axway agrees to defend, settle and indemnify Customer from and against any amounts payable under judgment, court order or settlement brought by any unaffiliated third party against Customer to the extent that such action results from actual or alleged infringement by any Product of any third party copyright, trade secret or patent existing or issued as of the date that Axway initially Delivered the applicable version of such Product to Customer. In connection with any allegation of infringement of any third party rights, Customer shall (and it shall be a condition of reliance upon the indemnity for Customer to):

- immediately notify Axway in writing of the allegation; and
- allow Axway sole control of the defense and any related settlement negotiations; and
- cooperate in good faith in the said defense and comply with all of Axway's reasonable requests (at Axway's expense) in defending or settling the claim.

ARTICLE 17 – TERMINATION

17.1. ARTICLE 18 – WAIVER

The fact that either Party fails to take action after a breach by the other Party of any of its obligations arising hereunder shall not be construed or operate as a waiver of the obligation in question or of any later breach.

ARTICLE 19 – SEVERABILITY

If any of the provisions of this Agreement, or any part thereof, is judged to be illegal or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will continue in full force and effect for the remainder of this Agreement and shall not be prejudiced, unless the

Such request can be made in writing to Axway Limited, 5/F., 10 Pottinger Street, Central, Hong Kong, ATTN: Legal Department. ATTACHMENT A ADDITIONAL DEFINITIONS

To the extent used in the Order Forms pursuant to this Agreement, the following definitions have the following meanings:

“Active (Production) License” means a license for Use of the Product in a production environment. An Active/Active configuration refers to a shared cluster configuration whereby applications and data are simultaneously available to all server Instances in the cluster. Consequently, Active/Active clusters support high availability ;

“Computer” means one or a group of physical hardware machines processing data and hosting the running of one or more operating systems as defined in the Order Form;

“Core” means the main part of CPU that interprets the instructions and performs the binary calculations. Every CPU has at least one Core, but can be composed of several Cores;

“CPU” (Central Processing Unit) means a functional unit in a computer that interprets and executes instructions. A CPU may contain multiple Cores with a Computer system or server. If the right of Use is based on CPUs and if the Licensed Component is used on a single computer with multiple CPUs, the CPU license must correspond with the number of respective Cores contained within such Computer. For example, a server that uses one dual-Core CPU requires two CPU licenses, and a server that uses four dual-Core CPUs requires eight CPU licenses;

“Instance” means a single occurrence of a Licensed Component. For clarification, if Customer has purchased only one Active Production Instance, Customer may run a single occurrence of the Licensed Component in RAM (Random Access Memory);

“Named User” means a physical person susceptible to establish a session with the Licensed Component;

“Node” means a running instance of a Axway program, i.e. a JVM (Java Virtual Machine) running an Axway application;

“Partition” means a reserved part of the resources of an Operating Environment that is set aside for a specific purpose;

Such as:

- “Capped-Partition” means the Sub-Capacity Partition using a determined maximum subset of the resources of an Operating Environment.
- “Floating Partition” means the Sub-Capacity Partition using a dynamically allocated subset of the resources of an Operating Environment. The maximum potential of resources used by a Sub-Capacity Partition equals the overall resources of the Operating Environment;
- “Full-Capacity Partition” means a Partition using all the resources of an Operating Environment. There can only be one “Full-Capacity Partition” per Operating Environment. If there is another partition, then both Partitions are “Sub-Capacity Partitions”;
- “Sub-Capacity Partition” means a partition using a subset of the resources of an Operating Environment;

“Passive (Non-Production) License” refers to a cluster fail over or disaster recovery software architecture. The passive software doesn’t execute unless the licensed production copy of the Licensed Component fails. Where Customer is not able to use its licensed production copy of the Licensed Component in the event of fail over, the Passive license will start executing after a service interruption. A Passive License may also include those for test, development, archiving or quality control/quality assurance;

“User” means, unless otherwise stated in the applicable Order: (a) with respect to all Products other than Products that are part of Axway’s Validation Authority or SecureTransport product suites, any person who is assigned login or Use rights or credentials by Customer to access the applicable Product, whether directly, through another application or otherwise; (b) with respect to any Product included in Axway’s SecureTransport product suite, any person or system who is assigned login or Use rights or credentials by Customer to access the applicable Product, whether directly, through another application or otherwise; and (c) with respect to any Product included in Axway’s Validation Authority product suite, any Validation Authority User.

“Validation Authority User” means any Human User, Group User or Non-Human User.

- “Human User” means, with respect to the applicable Product included in Axway’s Validation Authority product line, any human who has one or more associated digital certificates associated with such human that: (i) uniquely identify such human; and (ii) are contained in a database or other repository that can be queried through Customer’s implementation of such Product.
- “Group User” means, with respect to the applicable Product included in Axway’s Validation Authority product line, any group of humans that has one or more associated digital certificates that: (i) uniquely identify such group; and (ii) are contained in a database or other repository that can be queried through Customer’s implementation of such Product.
- “Non-Human User” means, with respect to the applicable Product included in Axway’s Validation Authority product line, anything other than a Human User or Group User (such as a device) (“Non-Human”) that has one or more associated digital certificates that: (i) uniquely identify such Non-Human; and (ii) are contained in a database or other repository that can be queried through Customer’s implementation of such Product.
